

HELP PAGE

1. If you are unfamiliar with Adobe Acrobat please go to the Help section found on the toolbar. The points below will assist you in a “quick start” to navigating through the CD-ROM.
2. All pages are bookmarked. Fast navigation throughout the CD-ROM is possible by clicking on the bookmark tab to the left of your screen. Under Program / Index you will find the speaker’s and their subject titles. By placing your mouse over the icon found in the left cell you will be taken to either the abstract or the PowerPoint.
3. The bookmark area may be closed by clicking on the bookmark tab on the left of the screen. It may be opened again by another click.
4. A + sign indicates there are more files under the heading. Simply click on the box to open the document.
5. You may search through the document for key words by clicking on the binocular button found on the toolbar. This is the default search engine used through the Adobe Acrobat reader.
6. You may print one document at a time by clicking on the print button found on the toolbar. Note the page ranges of the paper of interest and enter these page ranges into the print dialogue box.
7. If the pages are too small to read, select either the % view drop down box or go to view and select fit width.
8. To exit the CD-ROM, simply close the Acrobat Reader window.
9. This CD is protected. You are unable to change content or extract text from these documents.
